conventus
CONGRESSMANAGEMENT

In 3 steps to the digital congress

1 Create a Conventus account

on the digital congress platform. Precondition is the booking of your congress ticket. Please use the congress access code from your email with the access data first at the point described (step 3).

Open the congress platform http://www.ihc21-virtual.org and click on "Log-in".

If you have not registered (with costs) yet, please click on "New registration" and register for the congress.

Select the relevant option for your new Conventus account.

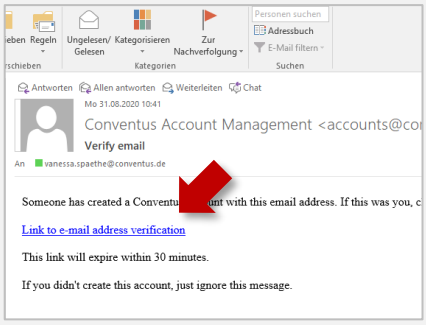

If you already have a Conventus account (from a previous congress or the upload center), you can directly click on "Login" (right column) and continue with step 3.

Enter your personal data (password of choice). Do not enter the congress access code here.

Make sure that you enter the email address. This will later be used for identification (your login name for a new login).

2 Confirm your email address

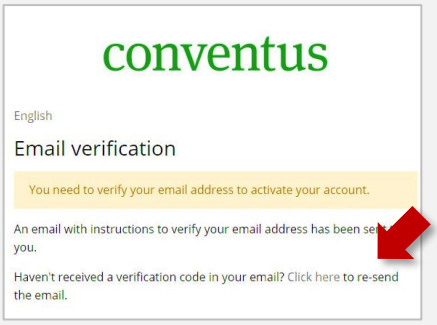

Right after your registration you will receive a link to the email address you entered. Confirm this email address by clicking the link.

Attention: this link will run out after 30 minutes. The email address may differ from the address given at the booking. Make sure you enter the correct email address when you log in later.

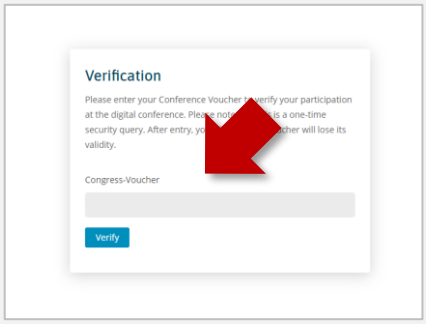

You have successfully verified your email address. Open the congress website again and continue with point 3.

Error message: “You need to verify your Email address to activate your account.”

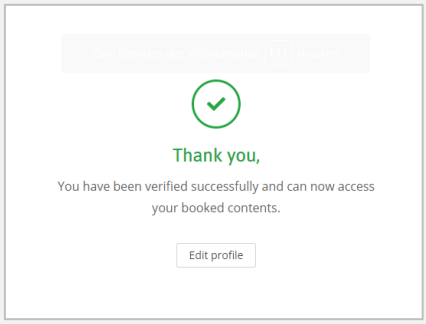

It is mandatory that you open the link you received after registration on the congress website. If this link has already run out, you can have it sent again here.

3 Connect your Conventus account with your bookings

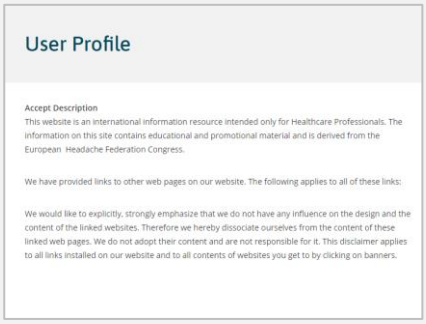

Use the congress access code from your email now.

The congress access code links your bookings from the booking system to the congress platform. This request is only made during your first login.

Almost done!

Please edit your personal data in the last step. Please use real data - your colleagues, friends and certification authorities will be grateful.

Update your personal data.

Your User Profile is needed in several places. Please use real data - your colleagues, friends and certification authorities will be grateful.

Have a good day and an exciting congress!

Please have a look at the "first steps", where you can update for example your profile for the visit within the industrial exhibition.